January Artist of the Month

Darlyne Paulson

Artist Meet and Greet ~ Sun., Jan. 15th 1:30-3pm ~ Open to the public

For Darlyne Paulson painting is a way of relaxation where only paint, brush strokes, and color exist. It takes her away from the stressors of everyday life. Sometimes she even forgets she is washing clothes or has a meal to make.

Her painting journey began in 2010 when Darlyne took her first painting class through Community Ed and Recreation. It just so happened to be a Bob Ross hobby class and she was hooked. She continued to take the Bob Ross certification classes in Waseca. She took everything they offered, Landscape, Floral and Wildlife. During her travels to Sedona, Arizona she became certified in floral under Gary Jenkins, host of the popular PBS television series, The Beauty of Oil Painting. A painting convention took her to Las Vegas where she explored floral and portrait oil painting even further. Last February she began painting in acrylics after spending a couple days in Skiatook, Oklahoma taking lessons from Jerry Yarnell who is known for his television series, The Inspiration of Painting.

Although she enjoys painting a variety of themes animals are amongst her favorite thing to paint. She has created several large scale paintings for her church. and enjoys sharing her talents. It is really special when she can paint something for someone as a gift. With each finished painting she gives God the glory for the talent He has given her.
