BASK IN BATIKS BY CHAR

On Display the Month of October

Meet and Greet Artist Reception

Monday, October 1st • 4:30-6pm

The Bask in Batiks exhibit illustrates Char's lifetime of joy in being able to utilize art in diverse but connected ways. She has a fascination of using areas of illumination and shadows on people and objects to create works in different mediums.

Now in retirement, Char has rediscovered the joy of batik. Char states, 'batiks take on a direction of their own because there is no certainty of how the colors of dyes will interact with each other and where the crackling or see page of colors will occur. These surprises delight me'.

Many of her batiks on display represent her great admiration of our Native Americans—their spirituality, culture, symbolism and the beauty of their attire. The crackled, rustic nature of batik was an excellent means of portraying Native Americans.

New Program Debut • Tuesday, October 9 • Noon Lunch with Arts

The "Feedsack Story"
Joys and Tears in the Apron
Fiber Artist Yvonne Cory, Easton, MN

Centuries barrels were used to transport and store all kinds of goods from seeds, food to gun powder. When the sewing machine was designed textile bags became a solution for some of the challenges from using wooden barrels. The "Feedsack Story" tells the trials and tribulations of using this utilitarian fabric as a way of life starting in the early 1800's and continued well into the hard times of the 1930 and 1940's until the 1960's. Memories, stories and aprons will shared in a delightful program about this fabric from the farm.

Bring a sack lunch if desired. Coffee and bars available
Free, everyone welcome.

SARAH PEACOCK IN CONCERT

Friday, October 12 - 7pm

Hailing from Nashville, TN Sarah Peacock bridges gaps between Country, Blues, Americana, and Rock-N-Roll. Her music is raw, truth telling, and fiercely unique. Essentially, at all times, Peacock is victoriously defeating the forces of evil with glorious Amazonian strength and valor.

When she's off the road, Peacock is active in the anti-bullying and animal rescue communities. She helped start a rock school for kids and recently formed her own 501(c)3, 'The Band Waggin,' benefiting animal health and rescue programs.

Community Outreach Focus

We are delighted to have Sarah share her anti-bullying message with students at the Fairmont Elementary School earlier in the day. Parent, grandparents and student are encouraged to attend the evening concert.
